

Dear education community leader,

Thank you for your interest in creating a new, fairer school funding approach that meets the individual, unique needs of all students. As a leader in the public education community, your voice is greatly appreciated as we continue to educate policymakers, local stakeholders and the public at large about Michigan's first comprehensive school adequacy study.

To further this goal, we recommend reaching out to these key stakeholder groups:

- School boards and local education advocates
- Civic groups, such as Rotary, Kiwanis and Knights of Columbus
- Local legislators
- Parent groups
- Chambers and businesses

You can also include information on this important research in your organization's newsletters, communications and on social media.

Please do not hesitate to contact us with any questions.

Sincerely,

Steve Wasko and Ron Koehler
